Creed

I believe that farm, ranch and agribusiness women play an indomitable role in the industry of agriculture. We are endowed with a work ethic, an invincible spirit and a devotion to family and mankind. I believe the nation’s strength lies in perpetuating our goals and ambitions as we strive to enhance our way to life in business and social partnerships within our families, our communities and our world. I will support these endeavors and do everything within my power to bring them to fruition.
